SCHOOL

Dear Rising Prek and Kindergarten Families,

Summer is a time of fun and learning for your child. This summer we encourage you to read with your child and have your child read to you. Reading can take the form of books, pictures, letter recognition, and sight word practice. While there are no specific requirements for summer reading for students entering prek and kindergarten, we encourage you to read with your child everyday and have them read to you. Please use this Summer Reading Bingo Board as a fun and interactive way to engage your child in letters, sentences, illustrations and books. We look forward to hearing about all of the wonderful books that your child read this summer when we start school again at the end of August.

Sincerely,
IHM Prek and Kindergarten Teachers
